

Tips for Photographing Wildflowers in Your Meadow

1. Point your camera directly down, as shown in the photographs below.
2. Take a number of photographs at the different heights suggested below.
3. Focus by tapping the screen over the plant you want to be focus on.
4. Check that the photograph is in focus before taking another photograph.
5. Photograph on a cloudy day, this will stop you getting shadows in your photos

